

Volunteer Opportunities

The Marine Extension Service provides research-based information, educational programs, and technology transfer to sustain natural resources, increase coastal stewardship, and help communities improve their quality of life.

Opportunities: aquarium tours • gift shop operation • elementary education • aquarium and or touch tank maintenance • special events • water quality monitoring • oyster restoration • research • computer technology • landscape architecture • graphic design • phytoplankton monitoring.

Benefits: free unlimited admission to the aquarium • 20% education sales shop discount • free admission to prescheduled programs • education about the marine environment • meet new friends • learn new skills.

Application: Please complete application form and return to Mary Sweeney-Reeves, Marine Extension Service, 20 Ocean Science Circle, Savannah, GA 31411.

More Information: telephone 912-598-2348, Ext. 3 or visit our website www.marex.uga.edu

University of Georgia Marine Extension Service